

Summit Bank Moves to Oklahoma City

Summit Bank will open their full-service location May 16th at Columbus Square, 1001 N.W. 63rd Street. The bank's lease of 3,480 square feet brings the Wiggins Property managed building to 100% occupancy.

The services offered at the new branch, which will house five employees, include commercial and retail lending, deposit services, treasury services and safe deposit access. According to Charlie Crouse, President of Oklahoma City Summit, chose Columbus Square for their new location because "It is strategically located in a vibrant area of Oklahoma City with good access to all parts of the metro". In addition to Columbus Square, Wiggins Properties has several other listings in the area.

Wiggins Properties has handled the leasing and management for Columbus Square for several years. Crouse indicated that good property management played a large role in the location decision, saying that the property management team at Wiggins Properties "Helps ensure our clients and employees are able to enjoy a clean, efficient environment to conduct business in".
